

Professionalism, Ethics and Treatment Philosophy

Privacy, respect and confidentiality are honored in this work at all times.

Professionalism and Ethics: Sandra Norris Wheeler is a Licensed Massage Therapist (LMT #1610) in the State of Oregon since 1983, and has been an active member of either the American Massage Therapy Association (AMTA) and the Associated Bodywork and Massage Professionals Association (ABMP) since her licensure. Both of these organizations have the highest standards in ethics and professionalism.

She has been a presenter with the Oregon Pain Society, a professional organization committed to promote the highest standards of professional competence and ethics in the treatment of pain disorders.

She is an Advanced Practitioner in numerous specialized post-graduate modalities, and is Nationally Recognized as a certified practitioner by several professional international organizations. She is a mentor to other healthcare practitioners in many fields, and a certified Teacher in Biodynamic Cranial work through the Dynamic Stillness school.

Treatment Philosophy and Intentions: She also is committed to a team approach to support the health of each client, and regularly receives referrals from physicians, dentists, psychologists, personal trainers, chiropractors and other manual therapists. Referring clients to adjunct therapies to support their healing process is a reflection of her commitment to each of her clients, and the recognition that it 'takes a village' for each of us to blossom in our lives and health.

At all times, she upholds the highest level of integrity, compassion and skill in her work. She is committed to the wholeness and wellbeing of each client, and brings her enthusiasm, warmth and wealth of experience to each session.
